The Committee's work will ultimately result in a new, communitydriven long-term vision plan for development of the Port of Rochester and surrounding areas. A preview of the new vision plan will be presented to the community at the CCA meeting, September 10, 7 pm, Robach Community Center.

Community Design Center Rochester (CDCR), is posted on the CCA website: http:// www.charlottecca.org/ community- development/charrette-

A red truck drove through the sign and the driver fled the scene. Unfortunately this sign is very valuable and will be difficult to replace. CCA is working with the Rochester Police Department to have the incident report reflect the damage in order to approach the driver's insurance company for reimbursement. Fortunately, there were no injuries; but now CCA must deal with an unplanned cost.

Update: New York State Senate Joe Robach Protecting Our Pets

was pleased to join my colleagues in the New York State Senate and participate in the Legislature's 8th annual Animal Advocacy Day. This year's event brought together lawmakers, law enforcement and hundreds of pet owners and advocates to raise awareness of important animal issues.

The safety of our animals is a responsibility in which we all need to share. That's why I was proud to support several Senate-approved bills to protect pets from harm, including measures to:

- Prohibit violators of "Buster's Law" from having a companion animal.
- Toughen penalties for the theft of a dog or cat.
- Prohibit the leasing of dogs and cats.
- Increase the fine for abandoning an animal.
- Toughen penalties for dog fighting and cruelty to animals.

Every bill speaks volumes on how important it is that we systematically enact laws that not only protect our pets but, ultimately, punish those that wish to do them harm.

In addition, this year's State Budget includes $5 million for the Companion Animal Capital Fund. This builds upon funding secured last year by the Legislature, the first of its kind, to provide humane societies, nonprofits and municipal shelters with grants for capital projects through a competitive application process.

My thanks to all of the pet owners, groups and organizations who travel to Albany each year in support of Animal Advocacy Day. It is because of your support that we are able to determine the appropriate legislation that makes the greatest difference in keeping our animals safe.

Update: Molly Clifford Northwest City Council Member

Rochester City Council Member

une is City budget time and by the time you read this, we will have begun the 2018-19 fiscal year. Weighing in at more than 500 pages, it is a challenge for City Councilmembers to sort out the details, never mind our citizens, so I thought some "highlights" might be helpful.

The budget includes modest tax and water-fee increases, leading to an average $43.37 additional charge per household. Expenditures for both capital and operations are 2.4% higher than 2017-18, which are offset by some additional fee increases, the use of both general fund and Enterprise fund balances (water, parking, etc.), the elimination of 9 vacant positions and $13.5 million in departmental and capital reductions.

Perhaps, the most controversial part of the budget was the proposed transfer of one police Lieutenant and three crime prevention officers (CPOs) from the Neighborhood Service Centers (NSC) to the general Patrol Division. This causes additional concern for residents and Council members because the assignment of officers is done by seniority and can impact NSC assignments as a whole as officers are shifted to fill vacancies.

The Rochester Police Department is also proposing to create a Community Affairs Division, which will oversee the NSC CPOs, as well as the School Resource Officers (SROs); positions that currently report up through the Patrol Division. While no one disputes the need for continued focus on improving police-community relations, a potential downside is the fact that NSC CPOs will no longer be a quadrant resource for the Patrol Division. In reporting to a city-wide Community Affairs Division, NW CPOs may be called upon for assignments outside of the NW/Lake Section for city-wide initiatives. One of the things that has worked well in the NW, in my opinion, has been Capt. Dearcop's ability to coordinate Patrol and NSC resources, e.g., Memorial Day weekend at the beach and prostitution details on Lyell Avenue, etc.

I am hopeful that a new reporting relationship will not impact police services in the NW, but truly improve police -community relations. I will be keeping an eye on it and would be interested in your perspective as well.

Free Summer Meals for Kids and Teens 18 and Younger

The summer is almost here and for families that can mean a lot more to manage when kids are out of school. Whether playing sports, getting ahead with summer classes, or hanging with friends at a city R-Center, eating a nutritious meal is often the last thing on kids minds. Additionally, with the constant availability of junk foods everywhere, it is increasingly tough for children to make healthy choices.

Thankfully, Summer Meals is back, offering City of Rochester kids 18 and under a fresh, healthy, and free meal that fits in with their on-the-go style. Provided by the City of Rochester, Foodlink, or the Rochester City School District, kids can eat food that will keep them full and satisfied without spending a dime or leaving their favorite activities!

Summer meals can be found at R-Centers, schools, churches, neighborhood programs, and lots of other places kids spend time during the summer. Also, don't forget the Summer Meals Food Truck that stops at libraries, parks and other community sites around Rochester. Best of all, parents don't have to take extra steps to get their kids involved – just drop in during the scheduled mealtime.

To find a location, look for yellow banners with the brightly colored "Summer Meals" logo around your neighborhood! For a complete list of meal times and locations visit http://www.SummerMealsRoc.org or dial 2-1-1.
